The diagram illustrates the assembly of the water pump. It shows the water pump being installed onto the engine block. A hose is connected to the water pump, and the entire assembly is then connected to the main water pump assembly. The diagram includes a label '99999' pointing to the water pump assembly.

49040

A diagram of a cable with connectors at both ends. The cable is shown in a curved path. On the left, there is a connector with a circular face and several pins. On the right, there is a different type of connector, possibly a D-sub or similar, with a rectangular face and pins.
